Editorial Comments.

Isn't it about time to start something in the Y. M. C. A. line?

Let us not be too hard on the legislature. It "played" the best it knew how.

A French woman the other day sued another woman for slander who called her a suffragette.

Out of 335 senate bills 45 passed and out of 626 House bills 50 passed, a total of 95 out of a total of 981 measures introduced.

Dr. McCormack's pet measure, the Health Board Bill, was lost in the shuffle in the Senate, but the Doctor himself came out on top.

They stopped the clock at midnight and kept on till 5 o'clock a. m. trying to do in a few hours what should have been done in three months.

Six inches of snow after the groundhog's limit to winter has been passed, is something seldom seen in this part of the Sunny South.

The Honorable Per Diem Per Day Deboe, who once rattled in the seat Ollie James fills, has gone to El Paso to look after some Mexican investments.

The proposition to submit to the States a constitutional amendment for women suffrage was defeated in the United States Senate. Both Kentucky senators voted against it. An effort to repeal the Fifteenth amendment was also defeated.

The Court of Appeals upheld the finding of Special Judge J. R. Layman that the election for judge in the thirty-fifth judicial district was void because of wholesale bribery. On the face of the returns, John F. Butler, Republican, defeated J. M. Robertson, Democrat, by a few votes.

A ten-year-old boy was killed by a flock of vicious geese at Racine, Wis. The trouble started when he hit one of the ganders with a stick. The whole flock attacked the boy, threw him down and pecked out his eyes before his father could rescue him. Three of the geese were killed before they could be driven off. The boy lived only five minutes.

All France is in a turmoil over the act of a woman, the wife of one of the leading political leaders of the republic. Gustav Calmetta, editor Figaro, criticized in the heat of a campaign M. Cailloux, Minister of Finance. The Cabinet officer's wife resenting for her husband, shot and killed the editor and now is in jail while her husband broken in spirit, has resigned. Mme. Cailloux has brought on a situation almost as stirring as that caused by Charlotte Corday during the French revolution.

Mr. Stanley is already pressing Mr. Beckham hard. Stanley's dramatic question, "Where was Beckham when Bryan's Baltimore resolution denouncing the Morgan-Ryan-Belmont crowd was adopted?" is giving Mr. Beckham a world of trouble. Stanley, James and one or two others cast 3½ votes for it and Mr. Beckham carried 22½ votes against it. His explanation is that he "was opposed to such a summary proceeding." Bryan's resolution made Wilson president and the Wilson Democrats will show how they stand by endorsing Stanley's vote.

Smith of Denver.

Chas. A. Smith, a Denver Engineer claims that he has evolved a scheme by which he can raise the Titanic, which went down two miles deep held down by pressure of water equal to 14,000,000 tons. His scheme is to attach lifting magnets to the steel sides of the monster 300 yards long after the wreck has been located by going down in a submarine boat, although no such boat yet invented can stand the pressure of more than 280 feet water. Mr. Smith proposes to work his miracle in three months.

NEW CHARTER PROVISIONS

Points of Difference Between The Present Charter And Third Class.

POLICE TO BE APPOINTED.

The Councilmen Will Have To Be Increased To Twelve.

Appointees to fill vacancies shall be paid from the pay of the regular incumbent if the loss of time is due to wilful neglect of duty or misconduct.

All officers elected or appointed by the Council may be removed by the Council at pleasure. Elective officers may be impeached and removed by the Council. All officers in office at the time charter takes effect shall serve out their terms.

Specific authority is given to issue funding bonds to pay existing floating debts, but only enough to pay principal. To run not exceeding 30 years.

The Council shall be composed of 12 members apportioned equally to the several wards, all elected from the city at large, not less than seven to constitute a quorum.

The proceedings of each Council meeting may be published in one or more newspapers to be selected annually by the Council.

All ordinances must be passed twice and those appropriating sums over $100 must receive two thirds of the votes of all the councilmen then elected.

Council may abolish at any time any office it creates.

Not more than six wards allowed, to be as nearly equal in population as possible.

The powers of the Council are extended and enlarged in many respects.

The mayor shall serve 4 years and be ineligible for re-election. He shall be elected by the people and enter upon his duties the first Monday in December. As presiding officer, he has the same power as a circuit judge to punish for contempt and may issue writs and subpoenas and impose fines to enforce same. He shall appoint a police judge pro tem in the absence of the regular judge. It is a part of his duties to see that all ministerial and executive officers of the city perform their respective duties. The mayor shall appoint all policemen subject to the advice and consent of the Council, and may remove them at pleasure. He shall designate one of the number to act as chief. Policemen are to be commissioned in writing by the mayor for one year, subject to revocation at the pleasure of the mayor. Mayor shall have the power to administer oaths. He may make temporary appointments of all officers except councilmen and suspend any city officer for misconduct or neglect of duty, reporting same to the Council for final action.

The mayor shall keep an office in some convenient and public place to be provided by the Council at the expense of the city and shall keep regular stated hours, shall not engage in any private business likely to interfere with his official duties, and shall devote his time and attention to the affairs of the city. He shall make monthly examinations of the books and accounts of all city officers.

Salary of Mayor $1,000, but may be reduced to $800 or increased to $2,400, but not during his term of office. A mayor pro tem shall be chosen and if the mayor be absent or disabled 10 days the mayor pro tem shall receive the same salary as the mayor, less his compensation as a councilman.

The City Attorney is to be elected by the Council, be a legal adviser but not prosecute in police court or ap-

INSURANCE CONFERENCE

Mass Meeting Proposed For Devising Plan Under New Law.

Louisville, Ky., March 20.—The first hopeful sign of an adjustment of differences between the fire insurance companies of Kentucky and the state insurance board was recognized in the announcement that leading business and commercial organizations of Louisville had received a letter from Commissioner of Insurance Ruby Laffoon suggesting a mass meeting at which the insurance situation may be analyzed and some agreement reached whereby the companies and the state may get together mutually on a working basis under the Greene-Glenn insurance law.

Immediately upon receipt of the letter from Mr. Laffoon the business men held a conference in the Commercial club and after accepting the Commissioner's proposal, appointed a committee to take up the question with Mr. Laffoon and fix a date for the conference, which will be held in Louisville.

Bankers and business men are more interested in devising some plan of co-operation by which credits will be restored than anything else, and it is likely that the meeting in Louisville will revolve around this important question. Since the enactment of the Greene-Glenn bill and the withdrawal of more than ninety of the 100 insurance companies from Kentucky, all lines of business have suffered to such an extent that alarm is felt by the most conservative element and general depression in business is feared.

Circuit Court.

Tom Dawson, col., charged with assaulting a negro girl, was fined $50 and given 6 months in jail.

Herland Brodie, col., charged with attempted assault on a negro girl, was acquitted on peremptory instructions as the girl said he offered her no violence.

John Smith, col., charged with attempted assault on Mrs. Laura Burris, case continued.

Auto Claims Big Victim.

Sir John Murray, the noted naturalist and oceanographer, was killed near his home, Wardie, Edinburgh, when his automobile turned over.

peals therefrom. He shall be paid an adequate salary payable monthly and fixed before his election and not changed during his term of office. In addition to his salary he shall be paid ten per cent upon all sums recovered and collected by him for the city and traveling expenses to attend to legal business.

The Clerk's duties are enlarged. He shall issue capias pro fines and writs for the Council, shall grant license, etc.

The offices of Auditor and Treasurer are required to be separated into two offices, but the duties of the Auditor may be performed by the clerk. The Treasurer's compensation is required to be the same as that of the clerk.

A city marshal to be elected by the people is authorized but the office may be abolished.

The police judge is to be elected by the people and paid an annual salary of $600, which may be increased but not changed during his term of office. He may be allowed legal fees.

A prosecuting attorney shall be elected by the people to attend to police court cases, his compensation to be 30 per cent of all fines and forfeitures collected and paid into the treasury monthly, on orders of the Council.

Property to be taxed as of Jan. 10 instead of April 1. Franchises may be taxed as property. Assessor's work to be completed March 10th. Board of Supervisors to be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the Council's approval, who shall convene first Monday in April. Tax collector to receive books June 1.

MONDAY'S SMOKER

Business Men's Association To Be Hosts At Function.

SPREAD AT THE AVALON

Get Your Name In The Pot And Apply For A Furlough.

The program for the H. B. M. A. Birthday Smoker Monday night has been announced and the arrangements committee is getting things in line for a supper that will be long remembered. The function will be pulled off at the Avalon at 7:30 o'clock and those who expect to have a dull time will be disappointed. Invitations with acceptance cards have been sent out and those who accept will not regret it. Plates will be provided for only those who accept. It is known that several of those who have accepted are not tongue-tied.

KITTY CLUB TRAIN NORTH

Baseball Precedents Are Reversed When Hopkinsville Opens at Cannelton.

The Hopkinsville team of the Kitty league is reversing the rule of nature and upsetting all the precedents and dope in spring training for baseball training clubs. While the major league and Federal league teams and American association squads from the northern circuits are all going South to train, as they have for years past, the Hopkinsville club, located south of the Mason and Dixon line, is to cross north of the river for spring training and open camp at Cannelton, Ind.

Cannelton is all agog over the prospect of harboring a league team within its borders for the first time in its history.—Evansville Courier.

the event.

The $1,000,000 of Louisville 4 1/2 per cent. school bonds sold Thursday to a Louisville syndicate at a premium of $50.190. The bids approximated $8,000,000.

A bill just enacted into a law in Mississippi limits the consumption of liquor to one gallon of whisky and one case of beer per individual.
There will be mighty little treating

The bill approximating $10,200 quarterly to the Confederate Home is invalidated, it is claimed, by lack of signature, but the present law allowing $175 per capita amounts to practically the same sum.

Not much attention was paid to the bill providing a commission form of government for fourth class cities, but it passed both houses. Any city in the second, third and fourth classes may now adopt commission government.

Up to the present time there have withdrawn from the bureau a total of eighty-eight companies of a grand total of 104 exclusive fire insurance companies doing business in the state. This leaves sixteen companies operating in Kentucky.

Three of the richest men in New York died last week, Geo. W. Van-my mind."

The new school act provides for 7 months' schools when the per capta reaches $4.75 and for 8 months when it reaches $5. The State adoption of text books carried. A commission, composed of the Governor, a representative of the State University and each normal school, and seven men appointed, one from each appellate district by the Governor, compose the commission to choose text books for all the common schools.

Worth Weight in Gold.

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie Mc-Call, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles.

Civic League Pictures.

On next Saturday, the 21st, the Civic League will give the people of Hopkinsville an opportunity of seeing some of the pictures of famous American Artists. There will be a display of these pictures at the Rex Theatre, which has been kindly offered to the League by its generous manager, Mr. Shroder. Copies of these paintings have been made on slides that can be thrown upon a screen by the same instruments used in moving pictures. This is a rare opportunity for Hopkinsville and it is hoped that large numbers will avail themselves of the privilege of seeing this exhibition.

What's the Answer?

What gives us our sense of loathing for the garden toad, demurely useful little neighbor that he has proved himself, while his second cousin, the frog, who seems to do nothing but play the dandy and the braggart, is uniformly treated as a good fellow? If the toad gulled and croaked all night long, and made his home in slimy pools instead of in the meadow patch, would they reverse their present order in our esteem?—Atlantic.

ARE OF LITTLE USE

Men Receive Little Consideration in Tehuantepec.

Superbly Built Indian Matrons of the Mexican Isthmus Are the Merchants in Market Place—Males Idle Their Time Away.

There is one town in Mexico which would repay a visit from the advocates of "votes for women," remarks a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. It is called Tehuantepec and lies on the isthmus of that name.

Here dwells a race of Indians among whom the women are, both in physique and in intelligence, vastly superior to the men. All the business is in the capable hands of the superbly built, handsome matrons of the tribe. They will not allow a man to sell anything in the market place. Even the meat stalls are in charge of women, who carve up carcasses and slap the "prime cuts" on the counter with all the jovial assurance of the male butcher. If you buy coffee or bananas off a Tehuantepec plantation it is with a woman that you will treat, and she will drive a shrewd bargain with you.

As soon as you come into the district you find women far more noticeable than the men. The latter are small and insignificant. They seem to have nothing to do but smoke cigarettes. The women do that, too, but they go about with an air of being occupied. They walk with an exquisite pictorial grace, and always as if they were going somewhere on important business. They are not very dark Indians, and their features are refined as well as intelligent, so much so that one can easily imagine such faces on European women of a high class. Of no other Indian can this be said.

I traveled on the Tehuantepec railway with several of very striking appearance. One oldish woman with gray hair and a resolute jaw line wore, as most of them do, a short red and black jacket of the zouave type. Her skirt was simply a sheet of red cotton with a thin white line in it, draped tightly around her and kept up by having its end tucked in at the waist.
Her feet were innocent of boots or shoes but, on the other hand, her hair was beautifully braided. The usual mode of hairdressing is to carry a braid all around the head so as to display its shape. And nearly all the Tehuantepec women put flowers in their hair. At first the contrast between heads so neat, so elaborate, even, and the sketchy costume below, is disconcerting. It is rather as if a man should wear a top hat and a bathing suit.

However, in such heat as scorches down upon the isthmus that combination might not be amiss. One soon realizes that the head needs protection and the body as much freedom as possible. Many women wear simply a loose cotton tunic and a skirt of the kind I have described, with a good deal of light brown waist showing in between the two. To this on Sundays they add inconspicuously a very large frilled and "gaufrated" linen and lace cap, something like the cap which Dutch women wear in the islands of the Zuyder Zee, only more decorative, and capable of being worn in a dozen different ways. In the pillared market hall, open at the sides, they sit and chatter gayly in sweet-toned voices all day long. Their wares, mostly fruit or vegetables or grains, are spread out before them in painted bowls. Around them play their naked children, all mixed up with dogs and pigs.

Smoky Cities Also Foggy.

The relation between smoke and fog is ably set forth in a bulletin just issued by the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, University of Pittsburgh, and written by Dr. Herbert H.
Kimball, professor of Meteorology, United States weather bureau. He sums up the matter by saying:

"City fogs are more persistent than country fogs, principally because of their increased density due to the smoke that accumulates in them."
"In consequence of the above there are fewer hours of sunshine in the cities than in the surrounding country."
"The sunshine is less intense in the city than in the country, the light of short wave lengths, or the blue light suffering the greatest depletion."

Land of the Future Tense.

Then laziness. "Do not today what can be put off till tomorrow," is the first commandment in the unwritten constitution of the Mexicans, says the Christian Herald. Beware of the Mexican who engages to do something for you "tomorrow." For "tomorrow" merely means some time in the future.
Because of this particular point of view Mexico has been humorously dubbed "The Land of Tomorrow." It is the land of procrastination; the land of "poco tiempo" or "wait a while."
An appointment made for ten o'clock in the morning may be kept at 11 or 12, or perhaps not until afternoon.

International Law Academy.

It has been decided to found an Academy of International Law at The Hague. The money supplied by Dr.
Goedkoof and the heirs of the late M. Asser will be used for the purpose, and a considerable portion of the cost of maintenance will be defrayed by large annual contributions from the Carnegie endowment for international law. The academy will be housed in the city of The Hague.

GOOD ROADS AND RURAL SCHOOLS.

The rural population is more willing to support better schools today than at any previous time. It is being realized that all educational activities or agencies must be more or less correlated, and, more than all else, that they must be made accessible to the children. In many counties where bad roads prevail, most of the schools are of the antiquated one-room variety. They are usually located along bad roads which, during the winter, when the schools are usually in session, become so nearly impassable as to make it difficult for the children to reach them. This condition causes irregular attendance and restricts the educational opportunities of the child. Not only this, but it often impedes the economic consolidation of these smaller schools into larger, stronger graded schools, with high school courses, directed by a competent principal and corps of teachers, according to the office of public roads, U. S. department of agriculture.

On the other hand, in counties which have improved their roads, the schools are easily reached, the average attendance greater, the efficiency largely increased and economic consolidation made possible. Regular attendance at school means consistent and regular growth of both school and pupil, and consolidation of schools means a maximum of efficiency at a minimum of cost. It is also noteworthy that there is a marked tendency for the consolidated school to become the social and intellectual center of the community. Most modern rural schoolhouses are so constructed as to serve the community as gathering places for various kinds of public meetings, and where vans are used to convey the children to school during the day they are frequently pressed into service to haul the farmers and their wives to institute work, lectures or entertainments at the schoolhouse. The consolidated school becomes a sort of community center to which all educational and social activities converge, and in order that it may properly perform that function all of the highways leading to it should be so improved as to render it readily accessible throughout the year.

LIGHT FOR UNCLE SAM.

Early beginning of construction upon the mammoth heat, light and power plant to supply the government department buildings in this city was assured when Byron R. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury, designated L. B.
Stillwell, consulting engineer of New York city, as an expert to cooperate with the engineering force of the supervising architect's office in the treasury department.

This is the first step by the government to bring about complete control of the heat, light and power service for the local departments, and the treasury department expressed a desire to rush the project forward as rapidly as possible.

The central works is to be located on the river front facing Potomac park, at Water street, between Thirteenth and Thirteenth-and-a-Half streets southwest. The sundry civil bill in congress appropriated $1,494,104 for plant. The land upon which it will be built is owned by the government.
The plant will not occupy all of the land for buildings, but will allow enough space to provide a site for a municipal works for the district.

The government now spends a large sum each year for electric current, and it is said that the new central station will prove a good investment in addition to providing better service.

Buildings which are to receive light, heat and power from the plant are:
Department of agriculture, bureau of

YOUNG PHILANTHROPISTS.

President Wilson recently received a post office money order for $2.60 from pupils of the fifth grade in the Lincoln school, at Anaconda, Mont., who asked him to send it to the sufferers from the recent disaster in Japan.

"Dear Mr. Wilson," wrote little Miss Isis Winters: "We have all heard of the terrible disaster that has just occurred in Japan. We have all contributed a nickel or dime toward helping these poor people. We haven't much money to spare, so gave up the movies on Saturday and some of us ran errands to earn the money. We hope it will get to Japan in time to help the poor boys and girls. We are also all interested in the Red Cross society, and would be much obliged if you would please send us a leaflet of their work."

President Wilson wrote a letter thanking the donors and turned the money order over to the American Red Cross.

So It Goes.

"Romance is always getting smashed these days."
"How now?"
"I see that Robin Hood's record for long distance archery has been broken by a circus clown."

A Strange Story.

Argyle, Mich.—Mrs. Wm. H. Carson, in a letter from Argyle, says: "I was almost wild with pain in my head, and other severe pains, due to womanly troubles. Cardui gave me great relief at once. Further use of Cardui raised me from my bed of agony. Cardui saved my life, and I can't be thankful enough for what it did for me." Whether seriously sick, or simply ailing, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. As a general tonic for women, to improve the appetite and build up the constitution, Cardui is in a class to itself. Those who have used it say it does the work; it relieves, it cures. Try it. Your druggist has it.

OUR GREAT FREE OFFER NO. 1. ON BUGGY HARNESS

The following notice was received from one of the largest tanners of Harness Leather in the world: "With the Hide Market at its highest point in the history of our business, and the big packers still asking further advances on March hides, which are positively the poorest product of the entire year, prices on all kinds of leather are bound to rule considerably higher. In fact, we are sure that this year you will see the highest prices that ever prevailed in the memory of anyone connected with the trade." With these conditions existing it is "HIGH TIME" for the consumer to wake up and do his utmost to get the greatest possible amount of wear from harness.

To Get the Greatest Possible Amount of Wear From Harness: FIRST—Buy Quality Harness
SECOND—KEEP THE QUALITY IN YOUR HARNESS BY KEEPING THE WEATHER OUT

The only way to keep the weather out is to keep the leather thoroughly filled with harness oil.

The Very Best—Neatsfoot Oil

In order that the public may become thoroughly familiar with our NEATSFOOT OIL and the benefits to be derived from its frequent application, we are making our Great Free Offer No. 1 on Buggy Harness.

Here it is: Every set of Buggy Harness sold by us between March 20th and September 1st, 1914, will be oiled in our Neatsfoot Harness Oil once every two months, absolutely free, until March 20th, 1915.

As this is worth $1.00 per oiling, this will mean a saving of from $3.00 to $5.00 per set in addition to making the harness last twice as long. Don't fail to take advantage of this offer.

TEXAS ROMANCE.

In Which Hopkinsville Man Wins A Lovely Bride.

Mr. Jewett Hawkins, of this city, son of Fraud Hawkins, of Trigg county, was married last week at Houston, Texas, to Miss Ila Kay Rogers, one of the twin daughters of Mr. R. S. Rogers. A Houston paper says:

No less a personage than Mrs. Alice Roosevelt-Longworth, daughter of the former president and wife of the famous Nicholas Longworth, will be interested by the news of a wedding which occurred in Houston yesterday.

The bride was Miss Ila Kay Rogers, one of the Rogers twin sisters, both of whom attended the Alice Roosevelt wedding.

The groom in yesterday's event is Mr. Jewett Hawkins, of Hopkinsville, Ky., which place will be the future home of the newly weds. In the meantime they will spend a brief honeymoon in Galveston, for which place they departed on the 10 o'clock Interurban.

The bride is being accompanied on the wedding journey by her twin sister, Miss Lila May Rogers, the twins not yet having become reconciled to the separation which Cupid has decreed.

The twin sisters, whose constant attendance upon each other Hymen has intervened to interrupt, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rogers, of this city. When they were tiny tots they were entered in a baby show in Oklahoma City, in which they took a blue ribbon, or rather two. Patrons of the baby show included Theodore Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt, at that time a sprightly little miss who became enamored with the beautiful prize twins. A friendship was struck up which the Roosevelts did not forget, when they reached the White House.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Duty.

One sound always comes to the ear that is open; it is the steady drum-beat of Duty. No music in it, perhaps—only a dry rub-a-dub. Ah, but that steady beat marks the time of the whole orchestra of earth and heaven! It says to you: "Do your work—do the duty nearest you!" Keep step to that drum-beat, and the dullest march is taking you home.—George S. Merriam.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

So. RICHMOND, VA.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. TYLER, 23 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.

LODI, WIS.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."—Mrs. JOHN THOMPSON, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

An indication of the development of the wireless telegraph is given in the statement that there are now 230 wireless stations in the world open to the public. PUBLIC ROADS

EXPENSE SHOULD BE DIVIDED

Railroads Should Share With Farmer Cost of Building and Proper Maintenance of Roads.

(By HOWARD H. GROSS.)

In a large sense the building of a road should be a local matter; that is, no community should have good roads forced upon them, and the building of the roads should not begin until the majority of the people living in a community want to undertake it. Let the voters of the township or the county press the button that puts the machinery in action.

It also would be well to remember that the roads are public property and belong to everyone. The farmers ought not to pay all the taxes for building and maintaining the roads, they are the feeders for the railway lines. It is all important to the railways that the highways shall be kept

A Sandy Road After Grading Before Improvement With Crushed Stone in Town of Delton, Sauk County, Wisconsin.

In condition so the delivery of freight will be equalized. There is no reason why the railroads should not be taxed to help build the county roads. The same may be said of the manufacturer and the city merchant who are doing business with the farmers; their interests are bound up in his interests. If one suffers, both suffer. The United States is a great big family, and what we need is family prosperity; those things done that make for the best good of all concerned. There is nothing that contributes more to this than good highways. They enrich country life and make the farm home more pleasant. It would be hard to conceive of a more delightful existence than to live upon a good farm with all modern conveniences—light, heating and sanitation—located upon a well-built highway, and therefore accessible to the market town at any day in the year, the trip being made speedily and with comfort.

Investigation shows that at least four-fifths of the traffic on the highways passes over about one-fourth of the road mileage; that certain roads have heavy traffic. These are the ones that need the first attention and should be permanently improved. We find the same thing in our railway systems. Take the trunk lines. Here is a great city where trains are moving every thirty minutes, and with an enormous traffic and wear. These roads must have heavy rails, well ballasted and carefully maintained, while a pioneer road has a single track with light rails and ballast—it is the only one possible to build for the small traffic that will at first come to it, but as the traffic increases so the physical condition of the road is correspondingly improved to meet the requirements.

The highways in the central west do not meet the needs of the people, but the people do not always realize this. We are too apt to get along with what we have, without looking to getting something better. One of the surprising things about this whole road movement is that one state will have a large amount of splendid roads and the adjoining state few. If any Indiana and Illinois are notable instances of this. Nearly 40 per cent. of the "Hoosier" highways are improved and most of these are splendid roads, while in Illinois the percentage is seven or eight per cent. Can anyone imagine a more unequal distribution of highway money than this? The people of Indiana

Interest Grows

In the doing of the Legislature.

The first few weeks are never the busiest nor the most sensational.

HOG CHUTE MADE PORTABLE

Handy Device is Easily Arranged by Taking Couple of Old Clevisator Wheels and Axle.

Here is the handiest hog chute we ever have seen, and it can be arranged out of an ordinary chute, by taking a couple of cultivators or any other small wheels and putting them a little over midway of the floor from the rear end, says the Iowa Homestead. While any piece of strong timber will make a suitable axle for bearing up the chute, an axle from some old, discarded spring wagon or buggy will last practically a lifetime and and prove much more satisfactory than a wood axle. When it is desired to move the chute, all that is necessary to tilt the rear end and push the frame to the desired position, instead of the old, cumbersome method of tugging and dragging it around to where it was wanted. If the wheels are kept well greased or oiled, and if the chute is not too heavy, one can use it for moving heavy articles around that could not be carried by hand.

A Portable Hog Chute.

LOOKING AFTER YOUNG SOWS

Best Plan is to Have Them Farrow After Grass and Clover Start to Secure Good Pasturage.

In nearly all cases the first litter is the hardest draft on the system of the dam and for this reason, if no other, the young sows should have special care. It is best, so far as can be done to have the young sows farrow after grass and clover have made a good start, as there are few things better, than plenty of good pasturage, to enable a dam to produce milk, and a young sow if she is to suckle her litter of pigs well, must have food well adapted to milk production. A sow should always be so gentle that in case it becomes necessary, she can be handled without unduly exciting her. It is never good policy to disturb a sow at farrowing, unless absolutely necessary. As a precaution against her eating her pigs, she should have a light opening ration for a few days before farrowing and then a bucket of warm slop ready for her whenever she gets up. Be careful about over-feeding her for the first three or four days and then gradually increase her rations until she is given all that she will readily eat up clean. After the pigs are a week old, she may be allowed the run of a pasture, feeding slop regularly at least two times a day and three times is still better. Be careful to feed regularly. Slop stuff, milk or wheat bran, oil meal and milk, are hard to beat and are all good foods for breeding sows.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Close quarters are not the thing for sheep, summer or winter.

As the hard work eases up on the horses, cut down their feed accordingly.

Sheep thrive wherever dry footing may be found. Keep them off the wet lands.

A long, rangy sow is fitted by nature to care for more pigs than a short, chunked one.

In the hog yard and pens cleanliness is not only next to godliness, but it is the price of profit.

Next to clover, rape and oats produced the largest number of pounds of pork per acre in a test.

Some men get into the sheep business by taking a small flock on shares, if a neighbor has too many.

Every successful swine breeder appreciates the value of good, strong and well matured breeding animals.

Many farmers will let the steer trample $100 worth of feed into the mud rather than spend $25 for a feed rack.

Good feeding during the breeding period is one of the essentials to the production of sound and vigorous lambs.

Never salt the horse's feed in the box. Place a big lump where he can reach it and he will take it when he needs it.

DUTIES OF THE COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY

Upon the application of disbursing officers, or the head of any department or other establishment not under the executive departments,
the comptroller of the currency is required to render his decision upon any question involving a payment to be made by them or under them. This decision when rendered shall govern the auditor and comptroller in the settlement of the account at issue.

For instance, a government laborer employed in an icehouse renders a bill for a pair of rubber boots. The government is asked to pay for them on the ground that for work in icehouse rubber boots are tools and not wearing apparel. The comptroller has approved such expenditures under the appropriation for tools, but has been obliged to disallow the expenditure for some other article of dress which would be available for use of the employee when off duty. The determination of just where traveling expenses, for instance, cease to be public expenses and become personal expenses is constantly arising.

In general, the officials of the government are constantly striving to stretch the authority under which money has been appropriated by congress and the comptroller's duty is to maintain intact the restrictions.

Advance decisions by the comptroller are in the nature of precautions and prevent much misunderstanding and confusion. They remain law, to all intents and purposes, unless later modified or revoked, but sometimes a comptroller upon the submission of new evidence, or perhaps through a court decision affecting the controversy, will acknowledge himself wrong. The men who are big enough lawyers to be successful comptrollers usually have not hesitated to acknowledge error.

John Sherman said in 1894 that the comptrollers of the treasury had been equal to and better lawyers than the secretaries of the treasury since the beginning of the government. Alexander Hamilton pronounced the comptrollership the "second trust" of the treasury, evidently placing himself first.

If under an appropriation headed "carriages and harness" the head of a department desires to purchase an automobile, and the disbursing officer feels doubt as to the legality of the transaction, he is required to seek a decision from the comptroller. In just such case the comptroller held that the reference to harness indicated that congress designed the appropriation for horse drawn vehicles. But in another department's appropriation bill a certain sum had been voted for "vehicles," which, the comptroller felt, showed a congressional purpose to broaden the authorization, and would permit of the purpose to broaden the authorization, and would permit of the purchase of an automobile. About 100 advance decisions are rendered every month and about 120 decisions upon appeal from the rulings of authors.

FUTURE KING OF ENGLAND IS A SAD PRINCE

You very often hear people commenting on the fact that the prince of Wales, whenever he is seen (and that is not very often), looks as if he had not found life to contain a single joy.
He is entirely devoid of the spirits of the average
English boy, to say nothing of his fellow students, whose pranks are endless.

The explanation is easy enough to find. The future king of England is by nature exceedingly quiet and retiring, a boy who should in every way be encouraged to strike up friendships with boys of more exuberant disposition and take part in their pursuits and pleasures, but instead of this he is kept continually under the thumb of his mentor.

His only pleasure is in his motor, which he drives as cautiously as an old man. Together with two of his college friends, young Lord Stanley and another, he had planned to use this car for an excursion to Switzerland to enjoy a couple of weeks' bobsleighing and tobogganing during the mid-winter recess.

During Christmas he cautiously broached the matter to his royal father and paternal grandmother, assuring them he was perfectly willing to steer clear of Paris and also to take a couple of enquiries to look after him, but the result was just what the prince had feared. King George and Queen Alexandra both agreed that his desire was a most natural one and, while perfectly harmless, might do him a lot of good, but the matter never got any further, as the king immediately saw the hopelessness of trying to get Queen Mary's consent.

HONORED BY INFORMAL CALLS OF PRESIDENT

Mrs. Joseph P. Tumulty is the only woman in Washington who is ever honored by an informal call from the president of the United States.
President Wilson
not infrequently
"just drops in" at her house in the course of an afternoon's automobile ride, to ask after
Mrs. Tumulty's health, to chat a moment with her husband, his secretary, and most especially to pass the time of day
with the Tumulty children.

When the White House car draw up at the front door of the Tumulty home there is a mad scamper of 12 little feet from the nur-ery to the front door. For the six Tumulty children are on intimate terms with the president and with every member of his family. When Jesse Wilson was married to Francis B. Sayre last November, little Mary Tumulty was about as keenly interested in the details of the wedding preparations as was the bride herself.
She received, at the particular request of Miss Wilson, an invitation admitted especially to her tiny self.

And when the hour for the wedding arrived Miss Tumulty, white-froaked, blue-ribboned, her blond curls in order, her eyes shining with excitement, was one of the most interested of spectators.

If one approaches Secretary Tumulty on a busy day at the executive offices of the White House and asks him for the names of all his children, he is as likely as not to call on one of the under secretaries for assistance in setting them down with the respective ages opposite. Mrs. Tumulty, however, knows the list by heart, and can even say it backward, for the main business of her life is the rearing and educating of their six children. Her position in Washington's official life, as wife of the secretary to the president, gives her entree to that cosmopolitan society at the capital which the average woman would find irresistible. Mrs. Tumulty, however, cares little for it. About the only functions which she and Mr. Tumulty have thus far attended during the present season were the White House wedding and cabinet dinners.

Since going to Washington, Mrs.
Tumulty has not allied herself with any social or philanthropic organizations. She declares that any woman who looks after the needs of a husband and six children has 12 hours a day of her time already engaged.

SARAH BERNHARDT RECEIVES GREAT HONOR

Had not the chancellery granted the decoration of the Legion of Honor to Sarah Bernhardt,
President Poincare himself
would have created the actress arbitrarily a chevalier of the legion. She is the one hundred and ninth living woman with this decoration. The action of the chancellery, believed as it was,
has met with a widespread demonstration of popular approval,
says a Paris special cable dispatch to the New York World.

Now that the "Divine Sarah" has actually got the distinction, her friends feel free to discuss her long indifference to the honor. That indifference was due to her feeling that the decoration meant nothing unless it was granted solely in recognition of her as an actress. This was a kind of claim on the legion which the chancellery did not recognize, and she knew it. The knowledge helped to reconcile her to seeing many less famous women decorated. Her exclusion from the legion had nothing to do with her private life, which was blameless from the French point of view.

Adeline Patti and the three other women of the stage who got the legion of honor before Madame Bernhardt did were given the decoration for reasons not connected with acting —for teaching, or for services to the state outside of their theatrical work.
That this was realized by Madame Bernhardt and that she felt the rule was to be applied even to her is shown by the fact that at a recent luncheon with some of her foreign friends she referred to the possibility of the decoration being bestowed upon her, remarking that many people said it was her unique distinction to have spread the French language and French theatrical culture abroad.

Popular Mechanics Magazine.

"In a little wooden building on the grounds of the University of Pittsburgh, thirty-six young chemists are working at scientific problems the solution of which will earn millions of dollars for many industries and eventually add to the happiness and prosperity of everybody in the world" says Frank Parker Stockbridge in an interesting article, "Harnessing Science to the Factory," that appears in the April number of Popular Mechanics Magazine. In this article is explained how these chemists have found out by scientific experiment how to make bread of a better quality "than the kind grandma used to make;" how they have discovered a successful method of preserving orange juice, a thing that has been a puzzle to fruit growers for 30 years; and how they are daily discovering new processes that will not only make manufactured products better, but, in the end, will make them cheaper.

The April magazine contains 344 articles and 350 illustrations, many of the latter being full-page photographs of incidents of universal interest.

Forest Notes.

Connecticut has one and a half million acres of timberland, mainly in farmers' woodlots.

India is developing an important turpentine industry, though it does not yet supply the home market.

Only one wood, Spanish cedar, (Cedrela odorata) is commonly used for cigar boxes. Some times a cheaper wood may form the basis of the box, with paper-thin veneers of the tropical cedar over it.

It has been suggested that certain kinds of timber on the national forests be reserved for the needs of the navy. This recalls the fact that the first forest reservations in this country were made for naval material.

The department of agriculture is trying to eliminate the danger to cattle from poisonous plants on national forest ranges. Of these plants, larkspur loco weed, death camas, and water hemlock are the most poisonous. Larkspur does the most harm, because it is so widely distributed and is particularly bad for cattle. Ordinarily, horses will not eat larkspur, and sheep can eat it without apparent injury.
